

USE OF COPYRIGHTED MATERIALS

Copyright is a protection given to original written materials and works of art. It allows the author or the artist to control the reproduction of her work. Since 1978, all materials enjoy copyright protection from their inception, even if the author or artist. As a result, Stats may not reproduce written materials or worksite materials or works or unless the works are considered within the public domain or meet the criteria established by the Fair Use Act.

Public Domain: Works that fall within the public domain are those that contain common information. Examples include height and weight charts, standard calendars, and the like.

Fair Use Act: Under the Fair Use Act, copyrighted works may be reproduced, for instructional purposes only, without permission, if ALL the following criteria apply.

- Spontaneity: There is not enough time to obtain copyright permission.
- Single Use for a class. Copyright permission must be obtained if it is to be copied for subsequent classes must be obtained.

Length: The portions of the work may that be copied are limited in length. Paragraphs or a few pages may be copied; whole chapters may not be copied.
